Mark Seeto

Mark is NAL’s statistician. His work includes data analysis, experimental design, and development of statistical methods such as detection methods for auditory evoked potentials.

Recent publications

